FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SUNDAY, April 10, 1864. At various times we have taken occasion to call the stention of the public to the swindling designs of preorganizations, which claim for themselves the stence. We refer to the various mining companies thich have recently sprung into existence in this and entinue to warn the people against the numerous arts ally practised to draw small capitalists into their glided These companies pretend to represent and conmines located in different parts of the country; some the Eastern States, but the greater portion of them are represented as being situated in the mineral region of New Mexico, Nevada, Arizona, Idahe and Colorado Terri-tories, embedded in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, far eyond the reach or inspection, and extending along the phole American Pacific slope from Vancouver's Island to wer California. A large majority of them have neither oul nor body, and the painted maps and charts showing the localities of their pretended claims, accompanied by diggings, can be selely compared to the schemes and ractices of quack dectors, who alture minds diseased or skeped by infatuation. Many of these companies, if they were called upon to square by the rule of honest in found upon a par with the lowest street gamblers the city. In trach the inducements which the proectors of some of these spurious companies employ to inveigle their victims are not sltogether dissimilar to employed by the fraternity of rognes. They unscrupulously play upon the credulity of unsuspecting inc cents until they become Imost unconscious of the act they are induced to perform, and they do not awake to the resity of their perious position until they begin to took for the immease dividends which have been prom ised, and then the duplicity which has charmed them becomes pain ully apparent. What creates the greates degree of actonishment is the fact that men pretending to respectability, and holding positions that would seem t entitle them to the confidence of the community, are found willing to lend their names to these stockjobbing bubble m order to give tuem the semblance of importance and a short-fived notoriety. The consideration, which seldon nounts to more than a frizen or two shares in each con cern, seems too insignificant to induce them to become partners in what they certainly know are merely specu lative m vements superinduced by an inflated currency and a mania to secure fortunes without the aid of labor or enterprise. And yet we find upon the books of these chimerical organizations the names of individuals of high standing to the commercial community, to which the the merit of the combination which is thus enconfidence of the people. Atain we tell the public that the maj rity of these newly formed companies have virtue or stability. hey are intended only for gam bling turnoses and when the fi al flu metal crash takes piace, which all reasoning man know full well must come ner or later, they will sink beneath the surface where bundreds of similar swindling concerns have gone before them, and will be remembered only in sorrow by these who were drawn ansospertingly to their support. The offowing were the quotations of stocks at the close ancy in the market for the bog product continued to day, and nearly all kinds favored the seller. For pork there was a good inquiry, and the market was excited and higher, the material failing off in the packing, as compared with last year, having rendered the trade sanguine of full prices for the next year. The sales were pretty heavy chiefy on the spot. Bed was steady, with a fair demand. Feel hams were quiet, but film. Bacon was in moderate request, but full prices were realized. Out meats were in good demand at uni prices. Lard was active, buoyant and firm. Butter and cheese were in steady, fair demand, without change in prices, The seles were, on the spot, park, 4,050 bbis, at $21 57 4, 2825 56 for new do., $19 50 a $22 for old do., $25 a $25 25 for new do., $19 50 a $22 for old do., $25 and $24 a $26 for prime mess for future delivery.
